Important information for students on New Start Academic Probation

Congratulations on returning to Illinois State through the New Start program. The University is dedicated to providing services that will increase your chances of success this semester through the Project Success program, which is required for all students on Academic Probation.

Project Success will:

- Provide you with the detailed information you NEED to know about academic policies pertinent to the New Start program
- Link you with campus services such as tutoring, counseling, mentoring, study groups, and other available campus programs
- Offer you support and helpful tips about the “unspoken rules” of campus life, such as the best way to talk to your professors, the ins and outs of dealing with difficult situations—and more

As stated, Project Success is required for all students on Academic Probation. Failure to complete the program will be considered by the reinstatement committee should you be dismissed from the University. Illinois State University believes that the knowledge of campus policies and resources, combined with your hard work, is the key to achieving academic success. Here is what students are saying about Project Success:

“It’s good to see so many New Start students and Nontraditional students—I thought I was the only one. I now understand the requirements of my probation.”

“It [Project Success] is very informational and helps give you options so you don’t feel overwhelmed.”
